

The Chicken Cat

Once there was a cat whom thought she was a chicken. We will call her Chicat. Chicat was born to a mama cat that lived next to a chicken coop. When chicat was very little her mama and brothers found new homes. Chicat had always loved watching the chickens with their baby ducks. Yes that is right a chicken with ducklings. This chicken had adopted the duck eggs and had five baby ducks. Chicat thought it would be fun the live with that chicken so she moved in. Chicat took dirt baths just like the chicken did. She slept under the chickens wing along side the ducklings. She ate left over vegetables, her favorite being the avocado and tomatoes. Chicat spent the day playing with the ducklings and other baby birds in the pen. When Chicat was to big to sleep under the chickens wing she found a nice warm place close to the chicken coop so she could watch what all the new baby birds were doing. Chicat loved being a chicken. Then one day she met a boy cat. This boy cat was having lots of fun chasing mice and taking long naps in the sun. Chicat decided she would like to go live with him and see how much fun it would be to be a cat. Chicat said goodbye to the chicken and all the other birds in the pen and went on to become a very nice cat.

We hope you enjoyed The Chicken Cat.
